

The Temple of the People

Master's Message to the 2021 Convention

My Beloved Children:

Each year you await my communication to you at Convention. I have told you many times that it is not necessary for my communications with you be limited to a yearly impulse, for I am with you every minute of every day. Your need for direction from me is fulfilled in my love for you, the love that comes from my need to see you grow. That growth is essential to my work and yours.

Each and every day of each and every year we make possible a richer exchange of our vibrations. Through your growing awareness of me each day, we add our activities one to the other, always with my love for you and yours for me. You pray from an ever brightening faith in all that I do for you; at the same time, my faith in what you do grows as you grow, grows as you try. My dear Children, such growing comes from the heart of each of us and is the very definition of time itself. Treasure it. Be aware that you must use it each day, not only for yourselves, but for the entire planet on which you live.

Do not reduce my love for you to a yearly document. Let us recognize our unending responsibility to each other in our daily, as well as yearly, greetings. Ours is an encompassing and powerful love for each other that truly embraces the Temple. Such love is demonstrated by every thought, word, and deed. Such magnificence of conduct is not to be simply found; it can only grow minute by minute, day by day, in each human heart, in each brother and sister for whom you and I are unwaveringly responsible.

Listen to the questions I have posed to you before, questions that have not changed, as they are timeless. Consider each one mindfully with your hearts, souls, and intuition:

What do you truly need for this day that you do not have?

What do you truly need for the morrow that you cannot foresee supplied?

What have you truly lacked in years gone by that has prevented your greatest growth?

What have you ever truly needed that you have not had in abundance?

Consider carefully your answers to these questions. Are the answers affirmative or negative, to your credit or another's fault? Seek the answers to these questions, each within your own heart, but seek not lightly.

From the beginning of this Temple Work, the Great White Lodge has given humanity true spiritual wealth: the Light of exalted Ideals and Imagination, and a spiritual Love that is boundless.

Each day of your life has been designed to help you in the attainment of those treasures you have needed most. Each day has impelled you to greater effort toward that realization. Each day has provided you with cause for wonder at the help and succor you have received that is beyond the limitations of your own effort. Again, I say to you, consider your answers honestly within your heart and soul. You cannot answer for another; indeed you must not do so.

Each day of your lives should add to your awareness of the Light of my Love for you, the touch of my hand that has guided you ever on the Path to conscious at-onement with the Avatar.

With aspiration, gratitude, and service, let your hand guide not only yourselves but those nearest you, that they in turn may guide others, however unaware, toward greater witness of the Father-Motherhood of God and the Brother-Sisterhood of all Life.

You have been given Teachings that hold every detail of Principle and application to any problem that could be your concern; and my Children, you have my deepest love. Take it all, and go forth to help your sisters, your brothers, and your world. In so doing, you help restore spiritual riches to yourselves, the Great White Lodge, and this precious creation of which we are all a part.

May each of your Conventions show deeper growth. May each Child of mine share such a dream with me.

Tenderly,

Your Father,
— Hilarion
